JOHN W. ALLYN
Owner-President

The man responsible for maintaining an American League baseball team in Chicago is Owner-President of the White Sox, Mr. John W. Allyn.

No baseball organization has the feeling of warmth for its owner as the members of the White Sox have for John W. Allyn. His generosity and sincerity are only exceeded by his affection for members and employees of his Club.

When the White Sox organization began faltering to a modern low for Chicago in attendance, there was speculation that Artnell Company—owned by John and Arthur C. Allyn—would have to succumb to offers of interested buyers.

John Allyn, refusing to give up, severed partnerships with brother Arthur in the Company. One of the several divisions of Artnell which John wanted was the Chicago White Sox.

He was determined not only to keep the White Sox in Chicago and in the hands of local owners, but to give the Chicagoland fans a pennant once again . . . hopefully, before the end of this decade.

His loyalty and perseverance netted him rewards much earlier than he had anticipated. The White Sox finished only 5½ games behind the World Champion Oakland A's last season and are ranked as strong contenders for the American League Crown in 1973.

STUART K. HOLCOMB
Executive Vice President and General Manager

At the beginning of the 1972 season, General Manager Stu Holcomb was asked to predict the White Sox finish that season.

At that time he answered, "Gentlemen, it's not wise to be overly optimistic with so many intangibles involved. However, I will concede our goal is near."

When asked the same question this year, he said:

"I feel the acquisitions we have made during the winter, plus the return of a healthy Bill Melton and Bart Johnson will put us over the top. The way I see it, our goal—an American League Pennant—is only 162 games away."

CHUCK TANNER
Field Manager

Chuck Tanner, 43, was acclaimed as the Major League Manager of the Year by The Sporting News and American League Manager of the Year by the Associated Press last season. The brilliant, philosophical leader matched strategy with his older peers and led the White Sox to a close second place finish in the Western Division. To accomplish this finish is tough enough in itself, but to achieve this position in his second season after being handed the worst team in baseball (106 losses in 1970) is indicative that he may become the most successful manager in White Sox history. He began building his 27-year professional baseball background in 1946 after earning 10 letters in baseball, basketball, and football at Shenango High in New Castle, Pa. He was captain of the latter two sports in his senior year. After American Legion ball he was signed to a pro contract by Jack Reider of the Boston Braves. He was named on the 1949 Western League All-Star Team and led the league in hits (195) in 1950. The next year he hit safely in 29 consecutive games for Atlanta in the Southern Association. As a rookie with Milwaukee Braves in 1955 he became the second player in major league history to hit a home run on the first pitch in his first time at bat. He was Milwaukee's Rookie Player of the Year that year and in 1959 he led American Association in doubles (41) and was named to the All-Star Team. In 1968 he was voted Texas League Manager of Year and 1970 Co-Manager of Year in the Pacific Coast League. In 1971, he was named Chicago's Rookie of the Year as a manager and Good Guy Ambassador of 1972 at the annual Diamond Dinner.

JOHN SAIN
Pitching Coach

John Sain, 54, continued to prove his reputation as the finest pitching coach in baseball. Under his tutelage, the White Sox pitching corps reduced its team earned run average from 4.54 in 1970 to 3.12 in 1971 and 1972. Wilbur Wood's 24 victories and Stan Bahnsen's 21 gave Sain twelve 20-game winners in 11 years of coaching in the major leagues. As a pitcher in his playing days, Sain equalled or topped the 20 mark four times with the Boston Braves. In 17 years as a professionl pitcher, he posted a .500-plus won-loss percentage 12 seasons. He pitched in four World Series (2-2, 2.64) and two All-Star Games. He was named NL's Top Pitcher of the Year in 1948 when he led the league with 24 victories. John's hobbies are auto and airplane mechanics and hunting.

AL MONCHAK
First Base Coach

Al Monchak, 53, joined the White Sox with Chuck Tanner in 1971. He is an excellent first base coach and an outstanding infield instructor. As a second baseman during his 18 years of professional baseball, he led the Longhorn League in putouts (402), assists (455) double plays (109) while playing with Odessa. In 1950, he led the same loop with 48 SB's, 450 Po's, 388 A's, 140 DP's, and a .969 fielding average. His best fielding average was recorded in 1955 when he led the Pony League with a .977. He has nine other league high marks in fielding during his brilliant minor league playing career. A serious injury in the minors and a lengthy brilliant tour of military duty in Europe during World War I curtailed the possibilities of an excellent major league playing career. He led the Longhorn and Tar Heel Leagues five consecutive years in assists and recorded the highest fielding average in four straight seasons. During 13 years as a minor league manager, his teams finished in first place four seasons.

JOE LONNETT
Third Base Coach

Joe Lonnett, 45, is beginning his third season as a member of the White Sox coaching staff. He is not only an adept signal relayer on the third base line but is affectionately regarded as the "best fielding third base coach in baseball" by sports scribes. He also is the team mentor for the catching corps. He spent four years of his 16 years as a catcher with the Philadelphia Phillies. In the minor leagues, he led the Pony League catchers in 1948 with 79 assists while playing with Bradford. In 1950 he paced his peers in the Three-I League with 779 putouts and with a .985 fielding average. His hobby is photography.

JIM MAHONEY
Bullpen Coach

Jim Mahoney, 38, is beginning his second season as a White Sox coach. Tanner selected "Moe" to join his staff for his instructional ability and his ability to relate to the young players. Mahoney was an outstanding gloveman during his 16 years as a player at the shortstop and second base positions. For example, in his first full season as a professional, Jim led the Appalachian League shortstops in all defensive categories and in 1960 he led American Association shortstops while at Minneapolis in total chances (743), assists (507), and double plays (90). He also led the Appalachian League in runs scored (101) in 1954. During his major league career, Jim played with Boston (the original signers), Washington, Cleveland, and Houston. His hobbies are golf, swimming, and bowling.

PLAYERS

The following format has been used to precede each White Sox player's biographical sketch and career statistics:

LAST NAME, First Name Position
Height Weight Bats-Throws
Date of Birth Place of Birth

ACOSTA, Cy — RHP

5' 11" 165 R-R
Born 11/22/46 Sobero, Mex.

Cy became the key righthanded relief pitcher in late inning roles for the White Sox last season. He was an instant success in Chicago. Within 12 hours after his arrival, Manager Chuck Tanner used him in the top of the ninth inning against New York before 51,904 fans with the Yanks leading 4-2. He held the Eastern foes scoreless and teammate Dick Allen rewarded him with a 5-4 victory by hitting a three-run homer in the bottom of the ninth. Cy continued to pitch scoreless ball for 10 consecutive innings, recording three victories and one save. He pitched in 26 games after joining the club on June 4 and recorded the best earned run average of any Sox hurler, a sizzling 1.56. Only four teams managed to score runs off Acosta's pitching: Boston (2), Detroit (2), Milwaukee (1), and Texas (1). He finished a total of 17 games and saved five of them. He has a "hopping" fast ball, a good breaking ball, and an excellent changeup. Cy held Sox opponents to the lowest scoring frequency (14.3%) of any pitcher on the team. He was recommended by Scout George Noga.

BBWAA ROOKIE RULE

A player shall be considered a rookie unless, during a previous season or seasons, he has (a) exceeded 130 at bats or 50 innings pitched in the major leagues; or (b) accumulated more than 45 days on the active roster of a major league club or clubs during the period of the 25-player limit (excluding time in military service).

ALLEN, Dick — IF

5' 11" — 187 — R-R

Born 3/8/42 — Wampum, PA

It could be said Dick reached his prime last season in the major leagues after winning the American League's Most Valuable Player Award from the Baseball Writer's Association of America, Player of the Year Award from Baseball Digest, and AL Player of the Year from The Sporting News. But, actually, he started in his prime and has not slowed down since. He was named Rookie of the Year after tying the major league record for most games (162) played by a rookie when he led the National League in runs (125) and collected 201 hits, including 29 home runs, while batting .318 for Philadelphia in 1964. He followed that brilliant season with eight more sparkling years to average over 30 home runs and 90 runs-batted-in per season. In 1972, his first with the White Sox and in the American League, he led the circuit with 37 homers, 113 RBI's (his career high), .603 slugging average, and 99 bases on balls (tie with NY's Roy White). His total homers, homers at home (27), homers in one month (13 in July), and most extra bases on long hits severed club records. He also led the Sox in hitting with a .308, drove in 19 winning runs, and was only .0005 points shy of leading AL first basemen in fielding in 1972. His exceptional speed is not only exemplified by the fact he stole 19 bases and scored 90 runs last year, but by the fact he hit two inside-the-park home runs. Both were hit in one game at Minnesota to tie a major league record. Another highlight of his career came last season when the fans across the nation gave him more votes than any other member of the 1972 All-Star Team. Other noteable achievements by Allen include: September 29, 1968, tied NL record for most walks in one game with five; Hit three home runs on September 29, 1968; Led NL with 352 total bases in 1964; Led NL third basemen with 29 double plays in 1965; Led NL with .632 slugging percentage in 1966; Led International League with 299 total bases in 1963.

ALVARADO, Luis — IF

5' 9" — 162 — R-R

Born 1/15/49 — Lajas, P.R.

Luis has two of the fastest hands in professional baseball. The ball seems to bounce from his glove to his throwing hand as if on a string, he flicks it out so quickly. In 1967, his first season of professional baseball, he tied the Midwest League in double plays for shortstops with 60. With Louisville in 1969, he was voted the Most Valuable Player in the International League after leading the loop in hits (166), doubles (30), and runs scored (89). His best month last season was in August when he helped his team win 17 while losing only 10 by collecting 18 hits and driving in 15 runs while batting .277. Of the four home runs he hit last season, one was inside the park. His hobby is reading comics. He was originally, signed by Boston Scout Pedro Vazquez.

(Alvarado Cont'd)

Born 7/9/43 — Los Angeles, CA

Once again in 1972 Mike proved his value to a team. Not only with his winning spirit, desire, and attitude, but with his glove and bat as well. He frequently made diving catches to rob batters of base hits in key situations. His long arms and loose joints gave him an advantage over many second basemen going after ground balls in the hole between first and second. At the plate, he repeatedly proved his worth when a rally was needed to win the game. With his keen eye he collected 70 bases on balls and was third behind teammates Dick Allen and Carlos May in hits. He was also third on the team behind these two in driving in winning runs (10) despite the fact he usually hit second in the batting order. He led the team in sacrifice hits (18) and well as the important category of sacrifice flies (7). He tied for league lead in the latter and was second in sacrifice hits. He is one of the best hit-and-run batsmen in the league and only hit into four double plays in 148 games last year. His best month at the plate was in May when he collected 23 hits and scored 18 runs in 79 at bats for a .291 average, but he also drove in many important runs in June (14) and August (15). Highlights of his career include a .308 World Series batting average in 1967 with Boston. He led the AL in sacrifice hits (18) in 1967 and the International League with 24 in 1966. He was an All-League prep star in football (2), basketball (3), and baseball (4). He was an All-American Junior College pass receiver at El Camino College in California before being signed to a pro contract in 1962 by Boston's Joe Stephenson.

BAHNSEN, Stan — RHP

6′ 2″ — 195 — R-R

Born 12/15/44 — Council Bluffs, IA

Stan became a 20-year game winner for the first time in his career in his first year with the White Sox last season. He has been a winning pitcher all but one season of his five years as a starter in the major leagues. He began his ML career with New York in 1966 by striking out the side at Boston in the first inning of his major league debut. In 1968, his first full season, he won 17 games and posted an excellent 2.06 earned run average to win Rookie of the Year recognition. In the minor leagues he pitched a 1-0 no-hit victory against Richmond on July 17, 1966, and an 8-0 perfect game against Buffalo on July 9, 1967 (both were seven-inning contests). Bahnsen continued his mastery over Boston and California last season with 3-0 and 4-1 won-lost records against them, respectively, for a career total of 15-6 against the Red Sox and 13-3 against the Angels. However, his best success last year was against Texas. He won all five of his starting assignments against the Rangers. Stan is also tough at the plate and is an excellent bunter, leading the Yankees in sacrifice hits during several seasons. He studied Business Administration at the University of Nebraska before signing a professional pact. His hobbies are golf, billiards, sketching, trail riding and fishing. He was initially signed to a pro pact by Yankee's Joe McDermott.

BRADFORD, Buddy — OF

5′ 11″ — 195 — R-R

Born 7/25/44 — Mobile, AL

Buddy, in April 1959, made a permanent mark in the annals of White Sox history. He became one of the few players (now 14) to hit a home run on-or-over the double-deck roof of White Sox Park. Babe Ruth, in 1927, was the first player to accomplish this mighty feat and Harmon Killebrew, in 1972, was the last. Bradford hit a total of 11 home runs and batted .256 in 93 games during 1959 for his best major league season at the plate. Buddy is an excellent outfielder with a fine arm and outstanding speed. At Sarasota in 1963 he led the Gulf Coast League outfielders in assists with 25 and the next season at Tidewater of the Carolina League he paced all outfielders in putouts (247) and tied for the most assists (19). As a prep star he hit .333 and was clocked at 9.7 in the 100-yard dash at San Fernando (Calif.) High. He also broad-jumped and ran 220-yard dash in track in addition to playing baseball and football (Most Outstanding Back). He studied Physical Education at Pierce College in Woodland Hills, Calif. Signed by Scouts Hollis Thurston and E. S. Bennett.

BRINKMAN, Chuck — C

6′ 1″ — 185 — R-R

Born 9/16/44 — Cincinnati, OH

Chuck has one of the finest arms of any catcher in the American League. He is also an excellent receiver as proven by the fact he only has made two errors in the past two seasons. His ability to advise young Sox pitchers in the bullpen has helped Pitching Coach John Sain produce one of the finest relief corps in the league. Since Brinkman and Sain became a permanent member of the Sox team in 1971, the club earned run average has improved from a dismal 4.54 in 1970 to a 3.12 in 1971 and 1972. His affirmative attitude and personality added to his physical abilities and knowledge behind the plate make him a definite asset to the Sox organization. Chuck was Captain and Most Valuable Player in basketball and Captain on the baseball team at Western Hills High in Cincinnati. He has a BS Degree in Education from Ohio State where he was Captain of the baseball team, made 2nd Team All-American, and played two years on the All-College World Series Team. Chuck's brother, Eddie, plays shortstop for the Detroit Tigers. Among Chuck's hobbies are bowling and golf. Chuck was signed by Scout Fred Shaffer.

EGAN, Tom — C

6′ 4″ — 215 — R-R

Born 6/9/46 — Los Angeles, CA

Big Tom holds the distinction of being one of the 14 major league ball players to hit a baseball on or over the outfield roof at White Sox Park. It has been determined that home run must carry at least 475 feet in the air to clear the edge of the outfield roof. Tom cleared it in 1971. The first was the mighty Babe Ruth. Egan was extremely effective as a pinch-hitter in 1971 when he hit .500 in that role. Last season, playing infrequently behind first string Catcher Ed Herrmann, he hit below his average. However—in June—when he saw the most action, Tom registered a solid .308 average and batted .333 in brief appearances during September and October. Tom is the tallest catcher in the major leagues. He was one of the most sought-after All-American high school quarterbacks in the nation. He also was a prep All-American baseball player after batting .520 his senior year at El Rancho High in Pico Rivera, Calif. After turning pro he led the Texas League catchers in fielding in 1966. He made the Texas League All-Star Team that year and in 1967 when he hit .291 and slammed 16 home runs. His first major league home run as an Angel was on a pitch thrown by White Sox ace Wilbur Wood, now a battery-mate. He was originally signed to a pro contract by Tufie Hashem of the Angels. His hobbies are golf and billiards.

FISHER, Eddie — RHP

6′ 2″ — 200 — R-R

Eddie is one of six active pitchers in the American League who have participated in more than 600 games. As 583 of his appearances were as a relief pitcher, he now holds the league record in relief appearances and innings pitched in relief (1,099). He pitched in 82 when with the White Sox in 1965 to earn the Fireman of the Year Award. Manager Chuck Tanner, after successfully converting left-handed knuckleball ace Wilbur Wood to a starter, hopes to accomplish the same thing with Fisher, who also throws a knuckleball as his primary pitch. Ed not only led the American League in games pitched in 1965, but with 67 the following year as well. He has a BS Degree in Education from the University of Oklahoma. His hobbies are golf, basketball, and hunting.

GOSSAGE, Rich — RHP

6′ 3″ — 190 — R-R

Born 7/5/51 — Colo. Spring, CO

Rich posted the best won-lost percentage of any White Sox pitcher last season by winning seven of eight decisions as a long range relief pitcher. The only game he lost was the season finale which he started. If this game was deleted from his season statistics, Gossage would have a season earned run average of 3.39. He made the long step to the major leagues after only two years in the minors. In his first full season at Appleton (1971), he recorded an 18-2 record with an outstanding 1.83 ERA. He also struck out 149 batters while walking only 50 and relinquishing only 141 hits in 187 innings. This super performance gained him an award as Midwest Minor League Player of the Year. Rich's quickness on the mound also enabled him to lead the Midwest pitchers in assists (48) and double plays (5). During the 1971 Florida Winter Instructional League, he permitted only four runs in 56 innings for a brilliant 0.64 ERA to aid the White Sox contingent in winning its second straight league championship. He was captain and made the prep All-League Team in basketball as well as baseball while playing at Wasson High in Colorado Springs, Colo. He also attended Southern Colo. State College. His hobbies are hunting and fishing. He was signed by Scout Bill Kimball.

HENDERSON, Ken — OF

6′ 3″ — 188 — S-R

Born 6/15/46 — Manning, IA

Ken is the only switch hitter on the Sox team. He has been rated as one of the most proficient, polished players in baseball. He does everything smoothly—fielding, throwing, running, swinging the bat from either side of the plate. In triple-A ball, he was named by the Pacific Coast League managers as the best defensive outfielder in the league. His best season at the plate in the major league was in 1970 when he hit .294, including 17 home runs and 88 RBI's. His best home run season was last year when he hit 18 with the San Francisco Giants. He also had an 18-game hitting streak during August and hit safely in 20 of 21 games (37 hits in 83 at bats, .446) to record a .409 average for the month. During this month, he not only raised his batting average from .190 to .258, but hit 11 home runs, 8 doubles, one triple, 28 RBI's, scored 28 runs, and stole 7 bases. On August 26 against the Cubs, he collected 4 hits, 2 were homers and 5 RBI's. Ken was a standout in football and basketball as well as baseball at Clairemont High in San Diego where he played against Sox Catcher Ed Herrmann. He gained three letters in each; was All-League and Captain of the cage unit; and All-City, All-Southern California, and All-CIF on the baseball squad. His father is a scout for the Giants. Ken received an honorable discharge from the U.S. Army Reserve in 1971. His hobbies are golf and tennis. He was originally signed by Giant's George Genovese.

Rodolfo has batted over .265 in every season in which he has played professional baseball. He is swift afoot and has a smooth glove afield. With the exception of one rookie pitcher, he is the youngest player on the White Sox 40-man roster. He played shortstop with Jorge Orta as the second baseman while at Mexicali in the Mexican Northern League and San Luis Potosi of the Mexican Winter League in 1971, and again with Navajo of the Mexican Pacific League last winter.

HERRMANN, Ed — C

6' 1" — 210 — L-R

Born 8/27/46 — San Diego, CA

Ed is not only one of the finest defensive catchers in the league, but is one of the most feared batters. For example he threw out three Baltimore base runners after strike outs on July 4 to set a new major league record and he led the American League with 19 intentional bases on balls last season. On several occasions he saved runs by blocking the plate, and repeatedly broke up double plays with his blocks on the opposing second baseman. During the month of September he collected 27 hits in 84 at bats for a .321 average. He hit 10 home runs last season to reach the double figures for the third consecutive year. Most catchers in the major leagues dread catching the elusive knuckleball, but they are fortunate enough to face this problem infrequently while catching a relief pitcher. The White Sox used knuckleballer Wilbur Wood 377 innings (most in league) last season and Herrmann caught well over 90% of these innings. In 1967 at Evansville of the Southern League, he led all catchers in putouts (693), assists (65), and fielding average (.990). At Crawford High in San Diego, Ed was team captain, Player of Year, All-CIF, and led league in home runs and RBI's. He also was All-CIF after lettering three years in football as a guard and middle-linebacker. His hobbies are building cars and hunting. He was recommended to the Sox by Scout Hollis Thurston.

HOTTMAN, Ken — OF

5' 11" — 190 — R-R

Born 5/7/48 — Stockton, CA

Ken continues to prove he has home run power as he stroked 20 fourbaggers over the fences in the Pacific Coast League (Class AAA) last season while playing for Tucson. This was the second highest total of home runs hit by any Sox players in the minor leagues. Hottman paced the Sox organization by slamming 37 home runs in only 123 games at Asheville of the Southern League (Class AA) in 1971. His total was not only tops in the league, but he also led the loop by scoring 99 runs and driving in 116. It gained him Class AA All-Star, Southern League All-Star, and Southern League Player of Year honors. Ken attended Sacramento City College and Sacramento (Calif.) State College. He was captain and All-League in baseball, basketball (guard), and football (quarterback) at Elk Grove (Calif.) High. He was also captain of his baseball team in college. His hobbies are golf and hunting. He was originally signed by Sox Scout Dario Lodigiani.

WHAT IS A SAVE?

A pitcher who enters game with his team leading and holds lead to completion of game is credited with a save, provided he is not winning pitcher. He must be finishing pitcher, unless removed for pinch hitter or pinch runner. If more than one pitcher qualifies, official scorer credits a save to "most effective" relief pitcher.

JETER, John — OF

6′ 2″ — 190 — R-R

Born 10/29/44 — East Point, LA

John, appropriately nicknamed "The Jet" by his teammates while at Grambling (La.) College, is a fleet centerfielder with a strong arm. He also was considered the top baserunner in the San Diego organization before he was traded during the winter to the Sox. He pilfered 40 bases at Gastonia of the West Carolina League in 1967 for the league high. He also stole 38 in 1968 at Salem and 36 in 1971 at Charleston of the International League. John hits with power as indicated by his home run totals of 25 in 1969 at Columbus, several seasons of 18, and 17 with Charleston where he hit .324. As a centerfielder, he led the Appalacian League in triples (8), and hits (88) in 68 games in 1964; the West Carolina League in triples (9), HR's (18), putouts (258) in 1967; the Carolina League in hits (156) and putouts (315). His total assists reached the double figures in three seasons (13 tied for league lead in '65, 12 in '68, and 16 in 1971) He was All-State in football and baseball at Charlotte Mitchell High and played two years at Grambling where he was studying for a degree in Recreation Education. His hobbies are Karate, music, and reading. He was originally signed by Bob Zuk for the Pittsburgh Pirates.

JOHNSON, Bart — RHP

6′ 5″ — 215 — R-R

Born 1/3/50 — Torrance, CA

Bart injured his knee playing basketball after a excellent 1971 season of 12 wins and a fine 2.93 earned run average (11th in the American League). He tried to pitch without an operation, but he was unsuccessful. He tried to be an outfielder at Appleton of the Midwest League (Class A) and Knoxville of the Southern League (Class AA). He hit .329 at Appleton, including six home runs, in 50 games before moving up to Knoxville where he managed a .277. He was finally returned to Appleton where he resumed pitching. He finished with a 1-0 record there, allowing only one run in 17 innings. He had a cartilage operation on his knee during the winter and is still considered to be a top contender for one of the Sox starting pitcher vacancies in 1973. In 1969, he led the Midwest League with 200 strikeouts. Bart was an All-Southern California infielder-pitcher and an All-American basketball player at Torrance High. Many felt he could have played professional basketball if he had pursued the sport through college. He did play one season while attending Brigham Young University, but signed a professional baseball contract with George Noga and Doc Bennett, two Sox Scouts.

KEALEY, Steve — RHP

6′ 0″ — 200 — R-R

Born 5/13/47 — Torrance, CA

Steve has been the workhorse of all right-handed relief pitchers since joining the Sox bullpen two years ago. In 1971, he pitched in more games (54) than any other Sox and, in 1972, he made 40 appearances which was more than any reliefer except South-paw Terry Forster. Steve was used as a long range as well as a short range reliefer by finishing 22 Sox contests in 1972. During the 149 batters he faced, he walked only 12 of them for a base on ball ratio of only one walk per 12.4 batters faced. He had the lowest opponents-on-base frequency (26.4%) of any Sox pitcher. No other Sox reliefer equalled this accuracy under pressure. Steve has the unique experience of hurling a shutout in his first major league start (vs. Baltimore, 1969). Probably the oddest occurance of his professional career came in 1970 when he threw only one pitch during a relief assignment against Kansas City and his teammates recorded a triple play. He was a member of the Midwest League All-Stars while at Quad Cities in 1967 when he fanned 134 batters in only 111 innings and established a 2.27 ERA. He made All-League in 1965 as an outfielder and pitcher with teammate Bart Johnson at Torrance (Calif.) High. Steve also pitched for Manager Chuck Tanner at El Paso and Hawaii. Steve's hobbies are fishing, hunting, and wood-working. He signed his first contract with California's Rosie Gilhousen.

In 1969, he stole 40 bases in 112 games at Kansas City to fall only nine SB's shy of the major league record for a rookie. One year earlier he had paced the Pacific Coast League by pilfering 38 bases for Denver in 108 games. In 1965 with the Wilson Club he led the Carolina League outfielders with 296 putouts. He was acclaimed Best Athlete of Year as a senior at Simon Gratz High in Philadelphia where he made All-Public honors in football, basketball, and baseball. He also pitched as a prepster. LEMONDS, Dave — LHP

Born 7/5/48 — Charlotte, NC

Dave, utilizing primarily an excellent slider and a good fastball, recorded a 2.95 earned run average as the White Sox fourth starter last season. Only Sox ace Wilbur Wood (2.51) recorded a lower ERA of those starting for the Sox in 1972. During his seven losses, the Sox batsmen were shutout three times and scored only one run in two others. He led the Sox pitchers in fielding by not making an error while playing in 31 games. He also is a good-hitting pitcher who has fast reflexes and is swift afoot. Dave was the Chicago Cubs' No. 1 draft choice in the Secondary Phase of June 1968, after making All-American and being named The Sporting News' Player of Year while at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. As a prepster at Garinger High in Charlotte, he was All-City three years as a pitcher-outfielder being named captain and All-State his senior year. He was also captain of the basketball team on which he played guard. His hobbies are collecting coins and stamps. He was signed to a pro contract by Doc Mather of the Chicago Cubs.

MAY, Carlos — OF

Born 5/17/48 — Birmingham, AL

Carlos, who has consistently improved his batting average each season, attained his first .300-plus batting average in 1972. His .308 (actually .3078) was fourth in the American League and close behind teammate Dick Allen's .308 (actually .3083). Manager Chuck Tanner has frequently said Carlos will be a .350 hitter in the near future. Some experts doubted May, who was named Rookie of Year in 1969, would be able to return to major league form after he lost most of his right thumb in a mortar accident while with the U.S. Marine Corps Reserves in 1970. However, after leading league outfielders in assists (tied Ken Berry of California with 13) and batting over .300, these doubters should be silenced for good. May also led the team in hits (161) and was hit the most by opposing pitchers (9). He was runnerup on the squad with 68 RBI's, 12 home runs, 14 winning runs driven in, 228 total bases, 28 doubles, .435 slugging percentage, 79 bases on balls, 83 runs, 23 stolen bases, and 4 sacrifice flies (tie with Ed Herrmann) in addition to batting. May ended the season with a 13-game hitting streak. "Huzzy," as he is nick-named, had a .432 pace in these games. Against Texas in 1972, he murdered their pitchers for a .510 average and 23 RBI's in 16 games. Carlos was a member of the 1972 All-Star team. He attended Southern University at Baton Rouge, La., and has a brother, Lee, who plays with the Houston Astros. Carlos was signed by Sox Scouts Sam Hairston and Walt Widmayer.

Hal is not only the youngest played on the 40-man roster but is one of the brightest lefthanded rookies in the Sox organization. He led the Gulf Coast League with 10 victories, 108 strikeouts, and a brilliant 1.27 earned run average in his first season as a professional with Sarasota. Last year he had the second lowest ERA (2.31) and second highest strikeout total (114) of all Sox pitchers in the minors while posting an excellent 13-5 record. MELTON, Bill — IF

Born 7/7/45 — Gulfport, MS

Bill was the 1971 American League Home Run Champion (first in Sox history) and was regaining his 1971 form in June of 1972 (4 HR's & .319 BAVG) when a spinal disc, which had herniated during the winter, finally interferred with the normal function of a major nerve in his lower trunk. A subsequent operation was deemed successful by physicians which will give Bill an opportunity to pursue a brilliant career which had just reached its peak stages. He now has 98 home runs which rank him third among the All-time White Sox list (Minnie Minoso (134) and Sherman Lollar (124). In his last two full seasons, he hit 33 home runs each year and steadily improved his fielding until in 1971 his aggressive play netted him the most assists and total chances of any third baseman in the Western Division (2nd most in either league). He even recorded a better fielding average than the touted Baltimore "hot sackman," Brooks Robinson (.9682 to .9681) in 1971. Although he did not play baseball until college, he lettered in football and basketball three seasons at Durante (Calif.) High. Altho Sox Scout Hollis Thurston only saw Bill play one season at Citrus College, Thurston was satisfied enough to sign Bill to a pro contract. Bill's hobbies are golf and hunting.

MORALES, Rich — IF

5' 11" — 170 — R-R

Born 9/20/43 — San Francisco, CA

Rich was the only infielder in the American League, who played in over 10 games at the positions, to have a 1.000 fielding average at second base and at third base. He also led the Sox infielders at shortstop, with a .968 average, for the second year in a row. In 1968 at Hawaii, his total putouts and assists were more than any shortstop in any league in the minor leagues. In 1965, he led the Southern League shortstops in fielding and, in 1963, he led the Midwest League in double plays. Last year, he hit .319 (15 for 47) during the month of July, but his most productive

MUSER, Tony — IF

6′ 1″ — 190 — L-L

Born 8/1/47 — Los Angeles, CA

Tony was used primarily as a late-inning defensive man as a rookie last year, after being recalled in July because he is considered to be one of the finest fielding first basemen in Major league baseball. However, he also proved helpful to the team at the plate by hitting .279; two doubles, two triples, and one home run were included in his 17 hits. During September and October, when he played the most, he hit .297. He also was an effective pinch-hitter, batting .333 and driving in two winning runs in 12 appearances. Tony seems consistent at the plate whatever the caliber of pitching. For example, he averagd almost .280 in two seasons in Class A, .280-plus after playing three years in Class AAA, and now possesses a .286 major league average. At San Diego (Calif.) Mesa Junior College, he was named All-Pacific Southwest Coast's Most Valuable Player in 1967. He lettered three years in baseball and two years in football as a quarterback, attaining All-League and All-City at Lakewood (Calif.) High in the former. His hobby is fishing. He was first signed to a pro contract by Boston's Ray Boone.

Born 3/9/48 — Shawano, WI

Dan saved more games than any other Sox pitcher in the minor leagues last season when he protected 17 at Knoxville in the Southern League (Class AA). He established a fine 2.67 earned run average while pitching 81 innings of mostly relief ball. He is a hard thrower, delivering more frequently from the sidearm position. Dan lettered four years at Gresham (Wis.) High as a baseball pitcher and a basketball center. He also lettered two years at Wisconsin State at Oshkosh as a pitcher before signing a pro pact with Sox. Dan's hobbies are hunting and fishing.

ORTA, Jorge — IF

5' 10" — 170 — L-R

Born 11/26/50 — Mazatlan, Mex.

Jorge (pronounced as George by his American fans) is one of the best young hitters in the Sox organization. He has power for his size as substantiated by the fact he hit 10 home runs while splitting last season with Knoxville in the Southern League and the White Sox, and by the fact he hit 23 in 1971. In the latter season, he led the Mexican Center League in batting with a torrid .423 average, in triples (7), and slugging percentage (.709) while playing with San Luis Potosi. Later that season with Mexicali in the Mexican North League, he batted .362. He has speed as indicated by his 15 stolen bases last season and 22 the year before. He is a resident of Torreon, Coah., Mexico, and was so proficient in prep basketball that UCLA offered him a scholarship.

O'TOOLE, Dennis — RHP

6' 3" — 194 — R-R

Born 3/13/49 — Chicago, IL

Dennis is a strong righthander who thrives on work. For example, in the four seasons he hurled over 100 innings, he recorded an earned run average under 3.00 in three of them. Last season, he toiled primarily as a relief pitcher at Tucson in the Pacific Coast League (Class AAA) and established his best strikeout ratio (113 in 122 innings) since his second year as a pro (97 to 102 innings at Duluth-Superior). He accomplished the latter in 1968 when he also led the Northern League (Class A) with four shutouts. He pitched in 49 games last season, which was the second highest among all Sox minor league pitchers. His best career won-lost records were 13-3 with Asheville, including a 2.67 ERA, and an 8-2 at Appleton with a 2.19 ERA. At De La Salle (Chicago) High, he was an All-Star selectee with a 14-6 record and a .543 batting average. He also attended Xavier University in Cincinnati. His hobbies are bowling, golf, and billiards. He is the brother of Jim O'Toole, former White Sox and Cincinnati pitching star. Dennis was signed by Scouts Fred Hasselman, Charles Gault, and Ira Hutchinson. Dennis had a great Winter pitching for Hermosillo of the Mexican Pacific League in 1972-73.

Jim, who has an odd favorite nickname of "Rat," is one of the few Sox players who can play virtually any position well. He has already been used at second, third, shortstop, and the outfield, but played more frequently at shortstop last season at Tucson. He makes good contact at the plate as proven by his batting average and the fact he struck out only 49 times in 356 at bats in 1972 and only 27 times in 261 at bats in 1971. At West Tech High in Cleveland, Ohio, Jim earned All-Conference, All-State, and Most Valuable Player honors as a shortstop. In college baseball at Western

REICHARDT, Rick — OF

6' 3" — 213 — R-R

Born 3/16/43 — Madison, WI

Rick is one of the most knowledgeable outfielders in the league. He has played all three positions while with the Angels, Senators and Sox. In high school Rick was named to both the football and basketball All-American squads in 1961 as a senior. He was also high point winner and broad jump champion in the 1961 Wisconsin High School State track meet. In all he earned 12 major letters in three sports. Ironically, he did not compete in baseball. He was an honor student and selected to Badger Boy's State as a junior. At the University of Wisconsin he competed in both football and track. He was a member of the 1962 Big Ten Championship and 1963 Badger football teams. He also is the only athlete to lead the Big Ten two consecutive years in batting. Rick still owns the Big Ten record for stolen bases. In 1964, he was selected as the outstanding athlete at the University as a junior. He was graduated with a degree in psychology. White Sox Player Personnel Director, Roland Hemond, former Angel Farm Director, was influential in Reichardt's signing with the Angels in 1964. His bonus is estimated as the largest ever paid. Rick's first professional manager was Chuck Tanner at Quad Cities in the Midwest League. He is the last major leaguer to have hit two home runs in one inning when he accomplished that feat in 1966 against the Boston Red Sox. In 1970 he led the major leagues in pinch-hit home runs with three. Rick also serves as the Player Representative for the team in Jay Johnstone's absence. He is the eldest of nine children and his father is an orthopedic surgeon. Reichardt inked his first pro contract with Angel Scout Nick Kamzic.

Born 9/18/48 — Lafayette, LA

Lee, called "Bee-Bee" by his teammates, is one of the fastest players in the White Sox organization. For example, in his rookie season with the Sox, he scored from second base on a sacrifice fly to beat the A's, 2-1. He stole 23 bases while playing with three clubs in '72. He has one of the strongest arms of any infielder in the league. He will be one of the top contenders for the Sox shortstop berth this Spring. In college and high school, Richard was a pitcher as well as a shortstop. At Lincoln High in Port Arthur, Texas, he was captain of the baseball squad (with which he earned four letters) and played one year as an end on the football team. While studying for a degree in Physical Education at Southern University in Baton Rouge, La., he played four seasons gaining All-Conference and All-American honors. His hobbies are music, dancing, and bowling. He was signed by Sox Scouts Mel Preibisch, Sam Hairston, and Steve Vrablik.

Born 10/31/41 — Joliet, IL

Ed was acquired from San Diego when Bill Melton was sidelined for the season and did a very creditable job at third base for the Sox. He has much more power than appearances indicates. He hit a home run to win the game in his fourth contest after joining the club. He tied with Rick Reichardt and Bill Melton for fourth place on the team in driving in winning runs for the season. His best month was in July when he drove in nine runs and collected 22 hits in 78 at bats for a .282 average. In 1971, he broke a 31-inning scoreless string the Mets' Tom Seaver had against the Padres by hitting his seventh home run of the season. At Joliet (Ill.) Township High, Ed lettered four years as a shortstop and three years as a guard on the basketball team. At Lewis College in Lockport, Ill., he played third base so well and hit so successfully he was named on the All-American Teams of 1962 & 1963. In 1972, NAIA inducted him into their Hall of Fame.

WOOD, Wilbur — LHP

Born 10/22/41 — Cambridge, MA

"Woody" was named AL Pitcher of the Year by The Sporting News in 1972 after he established the most successful season in his career by winning 24 games. The total tied Cleveland's Gaylord Perry for most victories in the American League. Wood also led the league pitchers in games started (49), most innings pitched (377), most assists (82), total chances (95), and starting double players (8). His 2.51 earned run average was low among the Sox starters and 10th in the league. By starting 49 games he tied a White Sox record set by Ed Walsh in 1908. He also completed 20 games and hurled eight shutouts. He pitched 25 games with only two days rest winning 12 and losing only 10. His 377 innings pitched were the most in the AL since Ed Walsh worked 393 in 1912. Despite the fact he is a knuckle ball pitcher, Wood is extremely accurate unintentionally walking only 74 of 1491 batters faced or 1.65 walks per each 9 innings. Wood was a participant in the 1972 All-Star Game and a member of the 1971 All-Star Team. He also holds the AL record for most games pitched (88 in 1968) when he won the Fireman of the Year Award. He led the Pacific Coast League with 19 complete games in 1964 and the International League with 15 and 8 shutouts in 1966. He lettered three years in football, hockey, and baseball at Belmont High in Lexington, Mass. His hobby is fishing. He was originally signed to a pro contract by Neil Mahoney of the Red Sox.
